right and paved the way for the runs that won the game.

The trouble started for the Phillies in their third inning when Burns bounded over Lobert's head a two bagger which the latter should have pulled down. Shafer died at first, but Fletcher's long sacrifice fly that took Paskert away out to the wall scored Burns with the first run of the game. Doyle then hit to Knabe and went down to first so fast he beat them widely separated. Evers and his the throw. However, he was left by Markle, who grounded to Doolan.

In the fourth inning it looked brighter for the Phillies when they got two men home, and continued to look bright until the eleventh, when a couple of hits and a mixup at first netted the Gants their pair of runs.

With one down in the fourth Magee hit cleanly to centre. Luderus pounded to Groh, 2b., 3 of 1 2 3 6 Bridwigs, 4 1 2 1 6 6 Groh, 2b., 3 of 1 2 3 6 Bridwigs, 4 1 2 1

why the Giants are now leading the National League race," said George Stallings yesterday. "Until recently Doyle was unable to hit with his usual vigor and the Giants were losing. But they braced the moment Larry's bat began to meet the ball successfully. He is the king pin of the New York team and now that he is himself McGraw's men cannot be headed. In my opinion the Giants have an edge on every other major league team in speed. It would not surprise me a bit if they defeated the American League champions in the world's series next fall."

This merely proved that practice makes perfect, for in the fall of 1911 Rube hit to the identical spot off Mathewson. Baker singled and stole second, McInnis walked and the two made a double steal. Furthermore, Sweeney made a bad throw, Baker scoring. Strunk batted McInnis in and stole second while the thieving fit was on.  Daniels donated the first New York runs. He doubled in the fifth and brought in Borton, who had walked, and Midkiff, who had reached first on Collins's juggle of a grounder. Walsh drew a pass in the seventh and coursed to third when Oldring singled. Growing restive again, another double steal was hatched and promulgated. Manager Dahlen, by the way, didn't show himself on the coaching lines yesterday. He wasn't seen on the bench either, and Zach Wheat too was among the missing. Stack, who held the Phillies to three hits last week, started out in Brooklyn's box, but after he had issued two passes and had been found for a single in the second inning he was relieved by Bull Wagner, who had the time of his life.

single in the second inning he was relieved by Bull Wagner, who had the time of his life.

Wagner pitched Class Z ball. He was wild and wabbly. Six bases on balls were charged against him and the Beaneaters hammered him for sixteen hits and all of their runs. In spite of his bush league work he was kept on the mound even when the Dodgers scored four runs in the fifth inning and were only three tallies behind the enemy. Behind Wagner the Brooklyns fielded raggedly and seemed to lose heart early in the fray.

> Philadelphia Protest Withdrawn. The Philadelphia National League club The Philadelphia National League club has withdrawn its protest of the game with Brooklyn on June 26, won by the Dodgers. The Philadelphia club protested because an occupant of the bleachers reached out and interfered with a Quaker ilt. Luderus, who was on second at the hit. Luderus, who was on second at the time, was sent back to that bag by the umpire and Lobert, the hitter, sent back to first base. On Wednesday, when President Lynch was in Philadelphia, the Quaker club withdrew the protest, the president pointing out that the decision was proper under the rule and that there also were ground rule which which the also was a ground rule which upheld the

BROOKLYN CHANGES ON "EIGHT FOOT" LAW

Kempner Agrees With McAdoo's Interpretation of Provision Now.

UNIFORM THROUGH CITY

Vehicles Must Leave Suitable Clearance in Passing Street Cars.

regard to the "eight foot" law for automobilists and others now exists of Greater New York, for following on the interview given to The Sun by Chie dinance. He has decided now to adopt the view that the law means an auto-mobile or other vehicle may pass a trolley car that is stopped for passengers if an eight foot zone of clearance is Hitherto he held the ordinance meant a vehicle must stop at least eight feet away from the rear of a car that has stopped. The interpretation new is uniform in all New York.

Magistrate Kempner said:
"The conflicting interpretations respect ing the eight foot provision of the speed ordinance are due to the use of the words 'pass or approach.' To say that 'no such vehicle aforesaid shall pass or approach within eight feet of a street car that has stopped seemed to me at first blush to have but one meaning, namely, that the vehicle is compelled to stop eight feet to the rear regardless of the width of the street and regardless of the possibility of having an eight foot clearance to the side of the car.

"But to apply this view to a very wide street would lead to an absurd construc-tion, and consistency of interpretation now leads me to believe that it is equally absurd to hold that in a street of a nar up in the eighth. Singles by Martin and Simmons and Schmidt's smash put over the winning tally in the ninth with two men down. Keefe was very effective. The making the passage.

"Upon maturer reflection therefore I am prepared to revise my former opinion and I now believe that a venicle may and I now believe that a venicle may move along and pass a stationary car provided it can keep a clear space of eight feet between it and the car.

"I feel that this is a more rational interpretation of that unfortunately and ambiguously phrased eight foot provision. My later conclusion, however, was reached with regret, because I know that such interpretation of the law enlarges the danger to the public, though it he helpful to vehicular traffic."

Something to beware of is speeding on Claremont avenue. Montclair, according to a report from the touring department of the Automobile Club of America. This says the penalty for exceeding fifteen miles an hour here is $150 fine or thirty days imprisonment.

The Pathfinder 40, which is on the Indiana manufacturers' tour to the Pacific coast, will try to make a sealed bonnet run of it. The hood is to be raised by Gov. Johnson
